

Spreading warmth, promoting the Joy of Giving

HT-PACE'S third annual woollen-collection drive being held in partnership with Godrej receives an overwhelming response from D

Children are the change-makers of tomorrow. If we want to give children the responsibility of ushering in a better society, we must provide them opportunities for expressing their activities and passion towards the underprivileged at an early age. We thank HT for giving us an opportunity to participate in this wonderful initiative.

Caring has the gift of making the ordinary special.

ANU SHARMA, principal, JP International School, Greater Noida

It is a commendable initiative by HT-PACE and Godrej to inculcate a feeling of compassion

➤ The woollen collection drive was a great success in our school. Students were very ➤ Initially, we thought it would be tough to collect clothes but going around the classes made us realise the warmth and affection present in the hearts of my schoolmates.

AATIF HOODA, student, Delhi Public School, Greater Noida

➤ I felt very proud and happy after donating my clothes for the cause. I want more and more

➤ Helping others is always joyful, and I as an individual feel proud that I can be a part of such a noble cause. Show your generosity and collect

➤ It is not how much we give, but how much love we put into giving. I am grateful to HT-PACE to make our school part of this drive. This small gesture of ours

➤ This winter I would like to donate clothes for all those families and children who are forced to leave their homes and live in inescapable conditions

➤ It is such a nice feeling to share the warmth with the underprivileged children. I am glad to be a part of this humble and noble initiative by Hindustan Times!
